A clogged lint filter causes the dryer to work harder as it tries to force warm, moist air out of the dryer's drum. in the dryer or on the folding table. 92 percent of laundry fires originate from clothes dryers. Anecdotally, if you don't move your clothes, there's a good chance someone else will; they may give you a short time, but any longer than 15 minutes and you can expect to find your clean load on the machine. A good disaster recovery plan is like an information insurance policy for a business, small or large. A good rule of thumb is not to take someone else's clothes out of the machine if you have others available to you. If you're the wash-and-go type, leave your basket on top of the machine. But besides the social benefits, there are also practical reasons for cleaning the lint screen after each completed dryer load: dryer efficiency and reducing the risk of starting a laundry-related fire.

Brown is given a proper funeral in his home state of Iowa, attended by Ryan, his father, President Ryan, and members of the intelligence community. Meanwhile, Rhodes finds his job extremely difficult due to the Dalfan building's high security, and eventually enlists the help of Hendley Associates' head of IT, Gavin Biery, to write a piece of software that will allow the CIA flash drive to be installed into a Dalfan building. He tells Ryan that his brother Yong and his girlfriend have already fled to China to escape the tropical storm that is about to hit Singapore. A flashback reveals that Brown was honored at the CIA for saving Rhodes from a 1985 ambush in Sofia, Bulgaria, set up by Zvezdev, in which he apparently killed the Bulgarian intelligence officer. Unbeknownst to him, Yong Fairchild, Dalfan's financial manager, and his girlfriend Meili, a Chinese spy, planned the murder attempt to silence him. He does so urgently by „grabbing“ the company server's encryption code and placing it on the drive in question without incident, making up a story about Ryan being involved with a Chinese spy (implied to be Lian).

In late February, Google introduced a major algorithm change known as 'Farmer' or 'Panda', which aims to reduce the rankings of low-quality pages or websites and serve higher quality sites to Google users. Rebalance the entire portfolio monthly, regardless of changes in positions.
